

210kg Bulk Tank

The 210kg Bulk Tank is commonly used by outdoor retailers and service stations to refill domestic gas bottles. The Gasworks Live Fire Training Device can be utilised to simulate real-life emergency scenarios, depending on the training required.

It has three different burn zones that can be operated simultaneously or individually depending on the training.

All Gasworks' Live Fire Training Devices are built to withstand repeated use, ensuring cost-effective training.

Intense Flame & Real Heat

Our realistic training device simulates intense flames and is designed for maximum training.

Operate with Ease

Easily start and stop simulations from the control panel. Quick-connect fittings allow efficient and simple setup.

Cost Effective

Built tough, our devices are engineered to stand up to years of simulated live fire training.
